LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AMEN

Dear Editor:
Amen to Dr. Palmer's letter of April 6 on the archaic custom of caps and gowns. I, too, feel trapped to conformity. In fact, I have purchased a cap and gown, not because I yearned for the addition to my wardrobe, but to save a few dollars over the rentals over several years. I'd be happy to forfeit my investment for the satisfaction of seeing BYU lead the way in abolishing a useless and expensive tradition.

Cap and gown rental and sales agencies are in the same category as trading stamp companies; commonly they deserve the name "parasites."

Dr. Paul O. Berrett,
Associate Professor

Engineering Sciences

CUTE GUYS

Dear Editor:

May I address this letter to the cute guys who so bravely sneaked around in the dark with their little cans of blue paint to courageously inform us that "Missiles Kill," so does Communism baby!

Smith Cousins...

Family Reunion Today

A group of nine dozen Smith cousins attending Brigham Young University will hold a special get-together in the Alumni House on the campus today at 7:30 p.m. All of the students are descendants of Jesse N. Smith, Utah-Arizona pioneer, and come from homes in more than 12 states. This semester their number has topped 100 for the first time.

The family also counts six faculty members at the university including three grandsons, two third-generation descendants, and one great-great-grandson of the family, Joseph Smith, and came to Utah in 1847 at the age of 12.

Harold H. Smith of Heber, president of the BYU Alumni Association and a grandson of the founder, will address the group along with other university officials. A chorus of Smith coeds will sing under direction of Susan Smith, Phoenix, and Wanda Smith, Snowflake, Ariz., and piano selections will be played by Robert M. Smith, Salt Lake City.

This month's gathering of the student kinemen will be the largest of the meetings they have held semi-annually for 21 years. Only 10 were on hand for the first one, held in 1946 in the Provo home of Dr. Oliver R. Smith, BYU Professor of communications.

Earl L. Smith, Orem, is chairman of the family committee sponsoring the gathering. He is assisted by Mrs. Ruth Udall Evans, Dr. Robert J. Smith, and Olivia Smith, Provo; and January Smith, Snowflake, Ariz.

"Dialogue"...

Managing Editor Lists Aims

By Tammy Tanaka
Universe Staff Writer

"God said, 'Come let us speak to one another.' It is through dialogue that we communicate with each other and with God. It is only through dialogue that truths will be revealed to us."

Eugene England, managing editor of "Dialogue: A Journal of Mormon Thought," thus expressed the philosophy which inspired this magazine.

He spoke Friday afternoon in the little Theater of the Wilkinson Center to an audience which overflowed into the aisles and entrances.

"Revelations are not stones flung down to mankind from on high," he said. "We instead are sentient beings flung into contact with the reality of the entire universe. Our groping for understanding in all things is what leads to revelation."

He listed some of the aims of Dialogue, a quarterly magazine now in its second year of publication with an estimated 5,000 subscribers:

— To publish a high quality, interesting journal for Mormons interested in sharing intellectual ideas.

— To cover the needs in a special area that is not being provided for by any of the other Church publications.

— To provide a source for secular critics who may be suspicious of "official sources."

— To provide a forum for a scholarly criticism and discussion of Church related issues.

— To help individuals in their search for meaning and compatibility between Mormonism and the secular world.

"Essentially, our aim is to dis-seuss what faith means when you go out into the world and try to be a Mormon in the 20th century," England said.

"It is our church. Each of us is responsible for what happens to it. We are shirking our responsibilities when we make no attempt to talk over issues which trouble us."

The following are excerpts from the question and answer period which followed England's speech:

Q. What right do you have to doubt or question what you are told by authority? What good does it do?

A. If dialogue is pursued with the proper spirit of inquiry, we can discover meanings which clarify the doubts.

People who have doubts are not necessarily immoral or wicked. And those who have no doubts are not necessarily stupid or intellectually dishonest. Both groups can achieve greater understanding of each other's viewpoint through dialogue.

Q. Do you use prayer in planning each publication?

A. Yes.

Q. What do the General Authorities think about "Dialogue?"

A. I don't know—and I don't know if I want to find out just yet. We both need to wait a while and see how it all works out.

Q. How does BYU Studies compare with Dialogue?

A. BYU Studies is a publication where Mormon writers can publish articles related to their own fields, not essentially related to Mormonism. Dialogue serves a different function — to probe and search Mormon thought. Its ideas are tentative and a subject to change. Because of its nature, "Dialogue" needs to remain independent.

Q. Why does Dialogue seem to be mainly a forum for Mormons who are critics of the Church. Isn't Dialogue just as critical to those people?

A. We welcome and want more articles "criticizing the critics." So far, the critics have been more willing to express their ideas than the defenders have.

Q. What about using "Dialogue" as a missionary tool? I can think of instances where it would be more effective than fanned boards.

A. I would be appalled if missionaries began using it as a regular tool. But it does reach a certain intellectual group which couldn't be reached otherwise. Of course, "Dialogue" alone won't convert anyone, but it could open the way.

Q. What kind of feedback are you getting? What do you think you've accomplished, if anything?

A. Comments like these are rewarding: I didn't know there was a community in Mormonism that I would identify with and belong to... I became aware of my own responsibilities.

Q. Aren't you afraid that intellectuals will create a "community within a community" — which will lead to a split?

A. At first we were but that fear has died out. The unity with in wards has proven greater than any clique on the basis of "Dialogue" readers and non-readers.

Q. Can we have this sort of dialogue at BYU?

A. Dr. Crockett, would you care to answer? (Dr. Crockett encouraged BYU to think about meaningful problems within an appropriate context, which wouldn't undermine basic principles.)

State Group Formed to Battle Obscenity

A new state-wide organization to battle obscenity — the Utah Citizens for Decent Literature — was formed this week following the recent passage by the Utah Legislature of newly-strengthened anti-obscenity legislation.

Taking the name of the national organization of CDL, the Utah group was formed by the merging of the Utah and Salt Lake County Councils for Better Movies and Literature.

William Beal of Salt Lake City and Dr. Henry J. Nicholas of Provo are chairmen of the Salt Lake and Utah County organizations, respectively.

Governor Calvin Rampton has signed into law HB 214 and SB 231 which strengthen and clarify existing state laws; both passed the legislature unanimously and with no amendments.

The bill was drafted and introduced at the request of the Utah and Salt Lake County Councils after more than 30,000 signatures were gathered on petitions in the two counties.

Drafting the bill were Glen Ellis, Provo City attorney; Don Bybee, Salt Lake City prosecutor; and James Clancy, legal counsel for the nation-wide CDL and one of the nation's foremost lawyers on obscenity control.

Clark Clark and Boyd Bronson, Senator and Representative respectively from Salt Lake City, volunteered to sponsor the bill along with many others.

Those present this week at the organizational meeting praised the work of Mr. Clancy who was in Salt Lake City for two days in January to meet with law enforcement groups, legislators and others, and to debate Utah Attorney General Phil Hanson.

The work of Mrs. Maurine Brimhall (legislative coordinator for the two county councils), Mrs. LaVerne Diehl, William H. Beal, and Mrs. Donna Bullock — all of Salt Lake City — was praised by Dr. Nicholas and those at the meeting.

Mrs. Brimhall pointed out that with the newly-amended statute, the responsibility passes to the citizens of each city and county in the state to petition their respective city and county commissioners to enact ordinances patterned exactly after the state law in order to control obscenity.

Men Needed In Movie

Work is being offered to men with some soldier experience to be stand-ins for a World War II movie, "Devil's Brigade." Wages will be $15 a day plus a noon meal — movie star.

Work days will be 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 18 to April 21. Anyone interested must have his own black combat boots, work clothes not be available each day, and will receive pay for any one or all the days.

"This is the most effective to help curb the problem," Brimhall added.

Those at the meeting concluded with the opinion of the attorney general who contended the old law unconstitutional though there had not been a case to test the constitutionality of the old law.

"But," Mrs. Brimhall pointed out, "the recently-passed amendments strengthen and clarify old law."

Among other things, the new law encompasses several as follows: (1) penalty clause giving the communities the right to regulate; (2) mandatory jury (3) penalty for a person "willfully" disseminating obscene material; (4) right to late motion picture exhibiting illegal "package" deals forced on magazine retailers.

Further information comes from the new Utah CDL will be announced soon by Dr. Nicholas, County chairman.

Interviews Set For Tuesday

Representatives of the State Government will be on campus Tuesday to interview students interested in state positions. Employment possibilities were discussed by Dwight Wadsworth, the Highways Dept.; Louis H. of Employment Service; R. Lindsay of the Juvenile Court; and the Utah State Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, and Durrell Kasper, representing the State Merit System.

The representatives will be recruiting students receiving bachelors or advanced degrees in work, sociology, psychology, management, administration, education, political science, civil engineering, accounting, statistics, mathematics, nursing, biology, wildlife management, education and related fields.

Interviews may be arranged through the Placement Center, 260 Smoot Administration Bldg.

Active Role . . .

Draft Solution? Draft Women!

—Although Selective Service Director Hershey's call for more women was based on a number of reasons, the editors of the University News Cincinnati claim advantages to giving women a more active role.

EFFECTIVE DISTRACTION

Cavener News said. You imagine the devastating effect of the mobilization of the Vietnam war on the lives of women, suddenly being confronted with a GI version of the play of the month looking over the shoulder of an M14? It is almost to destroy a man's faith in the military.

of the interesting use to which a general could put this, up to now, untapped source of manpower. Turn a battalion of women loose on the front line and they would immediately talk the enemy to death. That is, unless the enemy countered with its own woman's corps. In that case, military history would be presented with the first case in which troops refused to fight because their hair wasn't dry.

Consider, also the interest women could generate in such things as battle statistics. A typical dispatch would read: "The Big Blonde Thirty Six saw limited action today and reported only minor casualties: two broken finger nails, 27 runs in hose, and three women reporting to the rest area for a beauty appointment.

Of course, there would be certain occupations for which women just could not qualify. For example, fighter pilot. After all, the cockpits of those planes are not large enough for both pilot and her purse. Another is the Signal Corps; the battle could be lost while a commander was trying to get an open line to call up his reserves.

But the real point is that the more women drafted, the fewer male students lose their 2-S deferments.

Sweeps Two Twin Bills...

Y Nine Stops Foes

BY Glen Willardson
Universe Sportswriter

The combination of superb pitching and good hitting enabled Brigham Young University to sweep a pair of double-headers from the College of Southern Utah and Mesa College of Colorado Friday and Saturday.

The Cougars defeated Southern Utah by 5-2 and 10-1 scores Friday while taking a twin-bill Saturday from Mesa, 14-0 and 2-0.

Puma sophomore Ken Crosby struck out 14 in six innings of the first game before being relieved by Marty Downen and Fred Caville in the final three innings.

DAVIS HOMERS

Shortstop Steve Davis slammed a home run, a double and two singles in leading the hitting onslaught. Dick Clark, BYU catcher, knocked out three hits and first baseman Gerald Cardon added two more to the Cougar cause.

In the second game with Southern Utah, lefty Duane Gustafson delivered a two-bitter and struck out eight to earn the victory. Center-fielder Larry Romney was the big man at the plate, slugging home runs in the first and third innings and adding a single in the sixth. Romney had four RBI's and scored three times.

TWIN SHUTOUTS

Jim Engelhardt and Bob Foderaro pitched one-hit shutouts against Mesa College. Engelhardt had a perfect game going until the sixth inning when Mesa shortstop John Ruth singled to centerfield with two out. The Cougar southpaw struck out nine opponents.

Foderaro gave up his only hit in the first inning to the same Mesa batter, John Ruth. From that point on, however, the hard-throwing right hander pitched flawless ball in baffling his opponents. He struck out seven.

Rightfielder Tom Fife hit two doubles and two singles in the first game with Mesa. Cardon added three safeties and third-baseman Dennis Lamb and Gary Pullins accounted for two hits apiece to lead the 14-run barrage.

The Cougars had to fight for both of their runs in the second game with Mesa. With two out in the third inning, Foderaro walked. Steve Davis singled to left field and Pullins followed to load the bases.

Tom Fife then stepped to center to drive in two runs, and that was the extent of the Puma scoring.

The four victories left BYU with a 14-7 record for the season. This week's home schedule includes a double header against Westminster College tomorrow, starting at 1 p.m. Friday the Cougars will host the University of Utah in the Western Athletic Conference opener.

BYU Track Squad Victorious, 118-17

Brigham Young University's muscular track and field team overwhelmed a young Texas Western squad in El Paso by a 118-17 score Saturday night.

The Cougars put on a spectacular show of depth and versatility in convincing El Paso sports fans that they are one of the nation's finest inland colts.

LOSE ONLY TWO

Double winners Ken Peters, Bob Richards, Dave Reeves, and Pertti Pouti led Coach Clarence Robinson's crew, which captured 15 of the 17 events.

BYU will invade Salt Lake City this Saturday to compete in a triangular meet with Arizona State and Utah.

Peters took the shot put event with a heave of 60'11" and the discus with a throw of 169'3". The Cougars also finished second in both events with Roy Thumman in the shot and freshman Mike Louisiana in the discus.

RICHARDS' BEST

Richards registered the best mile time of his career, winning the event in 4:08.3 to take first place in the endurance race with Y junior Ray Rohatinsky taking second place. Richards also was victorious in the 800 with a 1:52.7 clocking.

The Cougars finished one-two in the 100 and 220-yd. dashes behind Reeves and Terry Tomlinson.

Finland's Pertti Pouti led BYU sweeps in the long jump and triple jump. The flying Finn leaped 24'7" in the long jump and 50'0" in his specialty, the triple jump.

Bob Hanrahan and Pete Dana finished in second and third place in both events.

Jim Pritchard 14'6" and Ken Richardson gave BYU still another sweep when they came up with the top marks in the pole vault. Tim Bonin and Don French finished one-two in the high hurdles while Dragan Andjelkovic of Yugoslavia captured the high jump (6'9 1/2") for the Cougars.

Cat Soccermen Defeat Bengals

Brigham Young University's hard-running soccer squad defeated Idaho State 4-2 in a non-conference battle Sunday in which the Cougars actually scored twice for the other side.

BYU goals came from the feet of Ralph Wolters, Muhammad Ashraf and Petter Svanevik, who scored twice.

Idaho State was unable to penetrate the BYU defense but counted two goals as the ball was deflected into the net by red-faced BYU players.

Miller 305 In Masters

John Miller, Brigham Young University's All American Golfer, shot a final round 71 to finish fifth among the amateurs with a 305 total in his first Masters Tournament yesterday at Augusta, Ga.

The slim junior from San Francisco barely made the cut after the first two rounds as he posted a second round 78 to go with a 72 during the first day of competition. His third round score was an 81 which put him last among the amateurs but the fourth round score moved him up considerably.

On Friday the BYU golf team played a team made up of former Cougar golf stars. The current Y golfers beat the alumni, 23-12. John Evans was the medalist for BYU with a 72. He was followed by freshman Ron Janney with a 74 and Don Wood and Kean Ridd with 75's.

Doug Swendsen, assistant to BYU coach Karl Tucker, was medalist for the alumni with a 75.

The Cougar golfers will take on Weber State in a dual meet Wednesday in Farmington, Utah.

The last two chamber numbers are string quartets played by two violins, a viola and a cello. The first and famous second movement of "String Quartet in D major" by Tchaikowsky is followed by Haydn's "String Quartet in F major."

'War & Peace' Shows Invasion Of Russia

By Mike Young
Universe Movie Reviewer

"War and Peace," which had its final showing Saturday at University Cinema, is a dynamic movie about people, their loves and hates, their passions and their general way of life, during Napoleon's invasion of Russia.

The main theme of the story is the fight for survival by the Russian people as they try to save their country. It revolves around three main characters.

PIERRE CONFUSED

Pierre, played by Henry Fonda, is of illegitimate descent. His father dies, leaving Pierre great wealth. He is confused about life, and peace, and how a person really feels within his heart. He wants to love but doesn't know how. He finally thinks he has fallen in love. They marry, and their troubles begin.

Natasha, played by Audrey Hepburn, is another of the leading characters. She is a young girl filled with life and joy. She is too young to marry, and has not yet given her love. However, she is disappointed when she finds Pierre is too young, for she secretly loves him.

Prince Andrey, played by Mel Ferrer, is the third character of importance. He is a war hero, and leaves his wife home while he goes to war against Napoleon. Their battle is lost and he comes home, just as his wife is giving birth to a child.

EMPTY VICTORY

Napoleon advances into Russia, and the Russian plan to allow the French an empty victory over Moscow is effective. Final defeat comes on the snow covered plains at Berezina.

Eric Brodin To Speak Tonight

"The Conservative Revolution on Campus" is the subject of an address to be given to interested students and faculty today at 8 p.m. in 321 Wilkinson Center.

The speaker, N. Eric Brodin, is the Western Director for the Intercollegiate Studies Institute. As part of this position, Brodin has served as the liaison between the foundation and students and teachers in colleges throughout the Western States.

He also conducted week-long seminars at Stanford University and Claremont College and has been a frequent speaker to college groups in colleges throughout the West.

Born in Goteborg, Sweden, Brodin was converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1947 and emigrated to America the following year. ## J. C. Penny Veep To Speak Today

A BYU alumnus returns to his alma mater today to address practicing businessmen on the theme, "The Challenge of Change in Retailing" at 4:10 p.m. in the Joseph Smith Auditorium.

Oakley S. Evans was born in Springville, Utah, a son of a BYU and graduate of summa cum laude in 1935 with a B.A. degree in business administration.

He is currently vice president and director of real estate and store planning for the J.C. Penny Co. with headquarters in New York City.

Occasion for today's meeting is one of the Executive Lectures sponsored by the College of Business. Evans has been with the J.C. Penny Co. since 1955 and held many executive positions over the years. He was promoted to his present position and became a member of the board of directors in 1966.

He is a member of the Council of Urban America, the International Council of Shopping Centers and a member of the board of directors of the Shopping Center Research Foundation.

Kathy Hanson Crowned Military Ball Queen

Air Force Week ended Friday night with the annual Military Ball. The highlight of the event was the coronation of Kathy Hanson as Military Ball Queen for 1967.

Miss Hanson, a sophomore from San Carlos, Ariz., joined her first attendant, Kathy Young, and her second attendant, Joyce Dutton in reigning over the festivities.

Theme of the ball was "Fly Me To The Moon," and music was furnished by the Bill Hanson Orchestra.

A special tribute was given to Lt. Col. Paul H. Sharp, Professor of Aerospace Studies at BYU, who will be leaving the campus for a new assignment at the end of the school year. The tribute followed a "This Is Your Life" format with photographs and stories from the career navigator's life.

About 800 attended the dance. Guests included not only members of the Air Force ROTC and Angel Flight, but many members of the active military.

"Let's put a slide rule on this thing called Life Insurance"

"Certainly there is an emotional and sentimental side to life insurance. But life insurance is—and should be—basically a business proposition.

"There are investment values to consider—protection features to scrutinize—the element of flexibility—and the fact that all life insurance companies are not the same in costs or service."

N.M.L.'s net cost is the lowest among major life insurance companies, as defined and shown in "Actual Result Study," compiled by Fitchcraft Courtant, a leading insurance magazine. A copy of this study is yours for the asking.
